This publication reflects options listed as of December 31, 1999.

This publication discusses exchange-traded options issued by The Options Clearing Corporation. No statement in this publication is to be construed as a recommendation to purchase or sell a security, or to provide investment advice. Options involve risk and are not suitable for all investors. Prior to buying or selling options, you must read the options disclosure document, Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options, which can be obtained from your broker, from any exchange on which options are traded or by calling 1-800-566-9642. A prospectus is also available without charge from The Options Clearing Corporation, 440 S. LaSalle, Suite 2400, Chicago, IL 60605, or from any exchange on which options are traded.

PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS

STANDARD SPECIFICATIONS FOR ALL EQUITY OPTIONS

Unit of Trade: 100 shares per option contract.

Premium Quotations: Stated in points and fractions. One point equals $100. Minimum tick for series trading below 3 is 1/16 ($6.25), and for all other series, 1/8 ($12.50).

Strike Price Intervals: 2-1/2 points for stocks trading below $25, 5 points for those trading from $25 to $200, and 10 points for those trading above $200.

Exercise Style: American. Option may be exercised on any business day prior to the expiration date.

Expiration Months: Two near-term months plus two additional months in the January, February or March quarterly cycle.

Expiration Dates: The Saturday immediately following the third Friday of the expiration month.

Position Limits: Limits vary according to the number of outstanding shares and trading volume. The largest, most frequently traded stocks have an option position limit of 75,000 contracts; smaller capitalization stocks may offer position limits of 60,000, 31,500, 22,500 or 13,500 contracts. Customer hedge exemptions are available.

Minimum Customer Margin for Uncovered Writers: The dollar amount of the premium plus 20% of the underlying security value minus the amount by which the option is out-of-the-money (if any) with a minimum of the premium plus 10% of the underlying security value.

Trading Hours: 9:30 a.m. to 4:02 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Exercise Settlement Price: Strike price times $100.

Exercise Settlement Time: Exercise notices tendered on any business day will result in delivery of the underlying stock on the third (T+3) business day following exercise.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR EQUITY LEAPS® (LONG-TERM EQUITY ANTICIPATION SECURITIES®)

Exchanges: AMEX, CBOE, PHLX, PCX.

Description: Equity LEAPS® are American-style options on certain equities that have terms of up to three years. With the exception of the specifications listed below, Equity LEAPS® specifications are the same as those for regular-term equity options. Equity LEAPS® have unique symbols to distinguish them from their corresponding regular-term options. Options expiring in 2001 generally begin with an Z; those expiring in 2002 generally begin with a W.

Strike Prices: Initial strike prices are generally set within 25% above or below the underlying stock's price.

Expiration Dates: AMEX-, CBOE-, PCX- and PHLX-traded LEAPS® expire in January of the designated year. Expiration occurs on the Saturday following the third Friday of the expiration month. All equity LEAPS® expire in January.

Position and Exercise Limits: Positions must be aggregated with those of any other option on the same underlying security for the purpose of position and exercise limits.

STANDARD SPECIFICATIONS FOR ALL INDEX OPTIONS

Unit of Trade: One contract equals $100 (the index multiplier) times the index level.

Premium Quotations: Stated in points and fractions. One point equals $100. Minimum tick for series trading below 3 is 1/16 ($6.25), and for all other series, 1/8 ($12.50). NYA options have a minimum tick of 1/16 for all series.

Strike Price Intervals: Generally, index options are listed at 5 point intervals to bracket the current value of the index. Higher index values may result in larger strike price intervals. Contact each exchange for specific information. NYA and MID options are also listed in selective 2-1/2 point intervals in the nearest two months. Generally, Index LEAPS® are listed in 2-1/2 point intervals. SPX options may be listed with up to 25 point intervals in the far-term months. OEX options are listed in 10 point intervals in the far-term month. SPL options are only listed in 25 point intervals. JPN options with more than one year to expiration are listed in 50 point intervals. Strike price intervals of 2-1/2 points may be available for WSX options.

Exercise Style: Index options are designated as either American-style or European-style. American-style options can be exercised on any business day prior to expiration. European-style options can be exercised only on the last trading day prior to expiration.

Expiration Dates: The Saturday immediately following the third Friday of the expiration month.

Exercise Settlement Price: The dollar difference between the index number and the strike price of the contract, multiplied by 100. The index number is generally determined following the close of trading on the day the exercise notice is submitted. The exceptions are expiring AUX, BIX, BKX, BMX, BTK, CEX, CMR, CRX, CTN, CWX, CYC, DDX, DJX, DOT, DRG, DTX, DUX, DXE, ECM, EGI, EUR, FPP, GAX, GHA, GIN, GIP, GOX, GSM, GSO, GSV, GTC, GTX, HCX, HKO, HWI, ICX, IIX, INX, IUX, JPN, LTX, MEX, MID, MSH, MUT, MXY, NFT, NDX, NWX, NYA, OSX, OTX, RIX, RLX, RUT, SGX, SOX, SPX, SVX, TCX, TRX, TXX, WSX, XAL, XBD, XEF, XII, XNG, and YTK options which settle on the opening prices of underlying stocks in the index on the day after the last day of trading (symbol AXS for AUX, BBS for BIX, BKO for BKX, BMZ for BMX, BTS for BTK, CSO for CMR, CWS for CWX, CXS for CEX, CXV for CRX, CTM for CTN, CYO for CYC, DDO for

AMEX Japan Index (JPN)

Description of Index: The Japan Index is a modified, price-weighted index that measures the performance of 210 common stocks actively traded on the Tokyo Stock Exchange (TSE) representing a broad cross-section of Japanese industries.

Index Value: The Index's value is calculated daily based on TSE closing prices of the component stocks and disseminated before the opening of trading in New York. The Index's value is determined based on a valuation method in which stock prices in Japanese yen are stated in dollar terms. Under the valuation method, 100 yen is assigned the value of one dollar. For example, if the aggregate price of JPN's component stocks is 30,500 yen, the index value will be $305. This insurer value will not be affected by fluctuating yen/dollar exchange rates. Thus, as with all traded index options, the Index is denominated in dollars and the premiums are quoted in dollars.

Expiration Months: Three consecutive near-term months plus two further term months in the March cycle.

Exercise Style: European.

Position and Exercise Limits: 25,000 contracts on the same side of the market, provided that no more than 15,000 of such contracts are expiring in the nearest expiration month.

CBOE Standard & Poor's SmallCap 600® Index Options (SML)

Underlying: The Standard & Poor's SmallCap 600® Index is a capitalization-weighted index of 600 domestic stocks chosen for market size, liquidity and industry representation. The component stocks are weighted according to the total market value of their outstanding shares. The impact of a component's price change is proportional to the issue's total market value, which is the share price times the number of shares outstanding. These are summed for all 600 stocks and divided by a predetermined base value. The base value for the S&P SmallCap 600® Index is adjusted to reflect changes in capitalization resulting from mergers, acquisitions, stock rights, substitutions, etc.

Expiration Months: Up to three near-term months followed by three additional months in the March quarterly cycle.

Exercise Style: European.

Position and Exercise Limits: The SML position limit is 100,000 contracts on the same side of the market of which no more than 60,000 contracts may be in the nearest expiration month. An index option hedge exemption for public customers may be available for certain diversified portfolios, which may allow a position of up to an additional 75,000 contracts. The exercise limit is the same as the position limit.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR CBOE FLEXible EXchange™ Options (OEX, SPX, RUT, NDX)

Minimum Size: $10 million underlying value for transactions that open a new FLEX™ series; $1 million underlying value for subsequent transactions in opened FLEX™ series.

Premium Price: Premiums may be expressed as a percentage of the value of the underlying index which are rounded to the nearest hundredth (greater or equal to .005 rounds up). Premium may also be expressed as specific dollar amount per contract or may be contingent on specific factors in other related markets.

Customized Specifications

Strike Price: Any reference price (e.g., a percentage of a value, set against a futures value, a real-time intra-day value) which when converted to an index level rounds to one decimal place (greater than or equal to .05 rounds up).

Expiration Date: A business day up to five years from trade date; it cannot fall on the third Friday of the month (or the first preceding business day if the third Friday is a holiday) or two business days on either side of those days.

Exercise Style: American, European or Capped.

Settlement of Option Exercise: There are two methods: opening exercise-settlement value and closing exercise-settlement value.

Position and Exercise Limits: Effective January 25, 1999, position and exercise limits for contracts on the FLEX option contracts are eliminated for a two-year pilot program. Equity FLEX Options Specifications

Minimum Size: 250 contracts for transactions that create a new Equity FLEX series, 100 contracts for subsequent transactions in existing Equity FLEX series. The size may be expressed in number of contracts or in U.S. dollars of underlying value. If the size is expressed in dollars of underlying value, the FLEX Order Book Official will use the current price of the underlying ing stock to determine if the dollar amount is greater than 250 contracts for an opening transaction or 100 contracts for any subsequent transactions.

Strike Price: For puts, any reference price in eighth increments. Strike prices may also be expressed as a percentage of the level of the underlying stock. Strike prices of equity FLEX call options are limited to the minimum strike price intervals that are available for non-FLEX equity call options.

Premium Price: Premiums may be expressed as a specific dollar amount per contract in sixteenth increments. Premiums may also be expressed as a percentage of the level of the underlying stock. For strike prices specified in other than underlying values, premium prices specified in other than a dollar amount per contract, and size specified in other than a number of contracts, the CBOE calculates actual strike prices, premium prices and number of contracts for submission to The Options Clearing Corporation for clearing and settlement.

Expiration Date: Any business day up to 3 years from trade date. However, it may not be the third Friday of the month (or the first preceding business day if the third Friday is a holiday) or 2 business days on either side of each of those days. For example, if during a particular year, the third Friday of June is the 17th, the expiration date for a FLEX Options series could not be the 15th, 16th, 17th, 20th or 21st of that month.

Exercise Style: American or European.

Price and Quote Dissemination: A text message describing the requested FLEX option, the quote provider, and the volume and price of any trade can be received via the terminals of quote vendors who offer the FLEX retrieval service.

CBOE NASDAQ 100® Index Options (NDX)

Description of Index: The NASDAQ-100 Index® is a capitalization-weighted index composed of 100 of the largest non-financial securities listed on The NASDAQ Stock Market. Base values for the index are adjusted over time to reflect changes in capitalization resulting from mergers, acquisitions, stock rights or substitutions.

Expiration Months: Up to three near-term months, followed by up to three additional months in the March quarterly cycle.

Exercise Style: European.

Settlement of Option Exercise: Exercise will result in delivery of cash on the business day following expiration. NDX exercise-settlement value, NDS, is calculated based on a volume-weighted average of prices reported in the first five minutes of trading for each of the component securities on the last business day (usually a Friday) before the expiration date. If a stock in the Index does not open on the day on which the exercise-settlement value is calculated, the last sales price reported to The Nasdaq Stock Market will be used in calculating the exercise-settlement value. The exercise-settlement amount is equal to the difference between the exercise-settlement value and the exercise price of the option, multiplied by $100.

Position Limits: 25,000 contracts on either side of the market with no more than 15,000 of such contracts in the near-term series. An index option hedge exemption for public customers may be available for certain diversified portfolios, which expands the limit to 100,000 contracts.

CBOE IPC™ INDEX OPTIONS (MXX)

Underlying: The options are based on 1/10th the level of the Índice de Precios y Cotizaciones (IPC). The IPC is a total return capitalization-weighted index of 35 major equity securities listed and traded on the Bolsa Mexicana de Valores (BMV). A total return index is one which is adjusted for the payment of dividends and capital distributions. As a result, index performance reflects the return from price changes plus cash dividends distributed for the component securities. The Index securities have been chosen for their size, liquidity and the degree to which they represent the Mexican market and economy. The IPC is maintained by the BMV and is considered the benchmark of the Mexican equity market. The index level is calculated and disseminated after each transaction in a component security during regular trading hours on the BMV.

Exercise Style: European.

Expiration Months: Up to three months in the March quarterly cycle.

Settlement of Option Exercise: Exercise will result in delivery of cash on the business day following expiration. The exercise-settlement value, calculated at the discretion of the BMV, is based upon the closing index level by using either, (i) the closing prices of the component securities or (ii) a weighted average of prices for each of the component securities for a period of time during expiration Friday trading sessions. If a stock in the Index does not trade this period, or if it fails to open on the day on which the exercise-settlement value is determined, the last reported sales price will be used in calculating the exercise-settlement value. The exercise-settlement amount is equal to the difference between the exercise-settlement value and the exercise price of the option, multiplied by $100.

Position and Exercise Limits: The position limit is 50,000 contracts on the same side of the market, provided no more than 30,000 of such contracts are in the nearest expiration month. The exercise limit is 30,000 contracts.

Trading Hours: 8:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. (Central Time).

Trading System: Designated Primary Market Maker.

CBOE Latin 15 Index™ Options (LTX)

Underlying: The Latin 15 Index™ is a modified equal-dollar weighted index of ADRs, ADSs, and closed-end country funds from four Latin American countries. PHLX EQUITY FLEX[®] OPTION SPECIFICATIONS

Underlying Security: Any security upon which options currently trade can be eligible.

Strike (Exercise) Price: Call option strike prices may be set at standard intervals only. Put option strikes may be any dollar value within one-eighth dollar (for example, 42 3/8) or a percentage of the underlying price (for example, 95% of the underlying price). A strike price specified as a percentage will be rounded to the nearest eighth.

Expiration Date: Any business day up to three years from the trade date, except that a FLEX[®] option may not expire on any day that falls on or within two business days of a non-FLEX[®] option expiration date. For example, if Saturday, July 18, represents the expiration date for July equity options, FLEX[®] options may not be established to expire on Thursday, July 16; Friday, July 17; Monday, July 20 and Tuesday, July 21. Further, a FLEX[®] option may not be established to expire on the same day as the trade date.

Exercise Style: American or European.

Minimum Opening Transaction Size: If there is no open interest in the particular series when a Request for Quote (RFQ) is submitted, the minimum size of an RFQ is the lesser of 250 contracts or the number of contracts having $1 million of underlying equivalent value. If a particular series has open interest, the minimum size to open is 100 contracts. (Note that as with non-FLEX[®] options, one contract represents 100 shares of stock.)

Minimum Closing Transaction Size: The lesser of 25 contracts and the remaining size.

Position and Exercise Limits: FLEX[®] options are not subject to a separate FLEX[®] position limit, and positions in FLEX[®] options are not taken into account when calculating the position limits for non-FLEX[®] options. However, position limits which exceed three times the non-FLEX[®] position/exercise limit must be reported to the Exchange.

Settlement: Physical delivery.

Trading Hours: 10:00 a.m. to 4:02 p.m. (Eastern Time).

PHLX INDEX FLEX[®] OPTION SPECIFICATIONS

Underlying Security: Any index upon which options currently trade can be eligible.

Strike (Exercise) Price: May be specified in terms of a specific index value number or a percentage of the index value calculated as of the open or close of trading on the Exchange on the trade date.

Expiration Date: Any business day up to five years from the trade date, except that a FLEX[®] option may not expire on any day that falls on or within two business days of an expiration date for a non-FLEX[®] option. Note that the restriction does not apply to quarterly expiring index option expiration dates. For example, if Saturday, July 18, represents the expiration date for July index options, FLEX[®] options may not be established to expire on Thursday, July 16; Friday, July 17; Monday, July 20 and Tuesday, July 21. Further, a FLEX[®] option may not be established to expire on the same day as the trade date.

Exercise Style: American or European.

Minimum Opening Transaction Size: If there is no open interest in the particular series when a Request for Quote (RFQ) is submitted, the minimum size of an RFQ is $10 million underlying equivalent value for broad-based index options and $5 million for narrow-based index options. If a particular series has open interest then the minimum size to open is $1 million underlying equivalent value.

Minimum Closing Transaction Size: The lesser of $1 million underlying equivalent value and the remaining size.

Position and Exercise Limits: FLEX[®] index options are subject to a separate position limit of 200,000 contracts on the same side of the market respecting broad-based index options (XOC, TPX, VLE); 36,000, 48,000 or 60,000 contracts respecting narrow-based index options, depending on the position limit tier pursuant to Rule 1001A(b)(i); and 22,000 for HFX index options. However, positions in p.m. settled FLEX[®] index options shall be aggregated with positions in quarterly expiring options listed pursuant to Rule 1101A(b)(iv) on the same underlying index, if the FLEX[®] index option expires at the close of trading on or within two business days of the last day of trading in each calendar quarter. Positions in FLEX[®] index options shall otherwise not be taken into account when calculating position limits for non-FLEX[®] index options.

Settlement: Cash.

Trading Hours: 10:00 a.m. to 4:02 p.m. (Eastern Time) for narrow-based indices; 10:00 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. (Eastern Time) for broad-based indices.

CUSTOMIZED CURRENCY OPTIONS CONTRACT SPECIFICATIONS

Exchange: PHLX

Currency Pairs: Any of the currently approved currencies may be matched for trading.* Either may represent the base or underlying currency. For example, USD/JPY (strike prices expressed in USD per JPY) or JPY/USD (strike prices expressed in JPY per USD); EUR/JPY (strike prices expressed in EUR per JPY) or JPY/EUR (strike prices expressed in JPY per EUR).

Contract Size: Contract size for the currency pairs is determined by the underlying currency. Below are the sizes for the underlying currency:

AUD	50,000
GBP	31,250
CAD	50,000
DEM	62,500
EUR	62,500
FRF	250,000
ITL	50,000,000
JPY	6,250,000
MXP	250,000
ESP	5,000,000
CHF	62,500
USD	50,000

Premium: May be expressed in units of the base currency or as a percent of the underlying currency. For example, the premium of a USD/EUR contract could be expressed in U.S. cents per EUR (a quote of 1.54 = $.0154 \times 62,500 = \$962.50$), or as a percentage of euros (a quote of 2.16% = $.0216 \times 62,500 = \text{EUR } 1,350$).

Exercise Price: Any price level to four characters. For example, a USD/GBP option could have an exercise price of $1.543 per GBP.

Exercise Style: European.

Expiration: Any business day up to two years from the trade date.

Exercise and Assignment: Customized Currency Options follow a unique exercise and assignment process on expiration day as reflected below.

- | | |
|-----------------|--|
| 8:00 a.m. (ET) | Trading ceases. |
| 10:00 a.m. (ET) | Window closes for exercise instructions in expiring options. Subsequently, OCC will disseminate a preliminary indication of the percent of open interest exercised in each series. |
| 10:15 a.m. (ET) | Customized Currency options expire and final assignment notification based on a pro-rata assignment process begins. |

Note: On expiration day, no new series may be created for trading which will expire that day – trades may only occur in previously established options series.

Position and Exercise Limits: 200,000 contracts in aggregate for each currency including standardized options, except for ITL, MXP and ESP which are 100,000 contracts.

Minimum Transaction Size: Transactions may be for any amount which equals or exceeds 50 contracts (i.e. 53 is acceptable). Closing transactions may be for the lessor of 50 contracts or the balance of the open position.

Price and Quote Dissemination: Request For Quotes (RFQ), quotes, and trades are disseminated as administrative text messages over the Options Price Reporting Authority (OPRA). Currently the text messages can be received via the quotation terminals of Reuters and Bloomberg:

Reuters: UCOM/FLXA – monitor page/summary of all activity (Swift code)/FLXA – information on underlying currency
FLEXOPY – list of customized option terminology

Bloomberg: NH PHL

Customer Margin: Subject to the same margin rules and requirements as the standardized currency option contracts. Offsets may be allowed on options with the same underlying currency.

Trading Hours: 2:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), Monday through Friday.

Issuer and Guarantor: The Options Clearing Corporation (OCC)

AUD and MXP may be matched with the USD only (premiums for AUD contracts must be denominated in USD).*

SPECIFICATIONS FOR INTEREST RATE OPTIONS

Exchange: CBOE

Symbols: 13 - week Treasury bill (IRX)
15 - year Treasury note (FVX)
10 - year Treasury note (TNX)
30 - year Treasury bond (TYX)

Underlying Instruments: IRX is based on the discount rate of the most recently auctioned 13-week U.S. Treasury Bill. FVX, TNX, and TYX are based on 10 times the yield-to-maturity of the most recently auctioned 5-year Treasury note, 10-year Treasury note, and 30-year Treasury bond, respectively.

Intra-day Information Source: Bridge/Telerate Systems Inc. calculates the underlying level continually throughout the trading day and disseminates the price at frequent intervals over the OPRA system.

Unit of Trade: One contract equals the multiplier ($100) times the underlying level.

Premium Quotations: Stated in points and fractions. One point equals $100, minimum tick for series trading below 3 is 1/16 ($6.25), and for all other series, 1/8 ($12.50).

Strike Price Intervals: 2-1/2 point intervals (each interval represents 25 basis points) to bracket the current level of the composite. Strike prices represent the underlying interest rates.

Exercise Style: European. Interest Rate Options may only be exercised on the last trading day prior to expiration.

Expiration Months: IRX – Three near-term months plus two additional months in the March quarterly cycle. FVX, TNX, TYX – Three near-term months plus three additional months in the March quarterly cycle.

Expiration Dates: The Saturday immediately following the third Friday of the expiration month.

Position Limits: For the purposes of calculating these limits, IRX positions are aggregated with WXB (13 week T-bill) LEAPS®. The current limit is 5,000 contracts on either side of the market. The position limit for FVX, TNX and TYX is aggregated with WXV, WXN and WYX LEAPS® respectively. The current limit is 25,000 contracts.

Minimum Customer Margin for Uncovered Writers: The dollar amount of the premium plus 10% of the underlying value minus the amount by which the option is out-of-the-money (if any).

Trading Hours: 7:20 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., (Central Time).

Exercise Settlement: The exercise-settlement values of interest rate options are as follows – SSX for IRX, FVS for FVX, TNS for TNX and TYS for TYX. The exercise-settlement values are based on the “spot yield” on the last trading day as reported by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Exercise Settlement Time: Exercise notices tendered will result in delivery of cash on the next business day.

Trading System: Designated Primary Market Maker.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR INTEREST RATE LEAPS®

Exchange: CBOE

Symbols: 13 - week Treasury bill LEAPS® (LXI)
15 - year Treasury note LEAPS® (LXV)
10 - year Treasury note LEAPS® (LXN)
30 - year Treasury bond LEAPS® (LBA)

Underlying Instrument: LXI, LXV, LXN and LBN are Long-term Equity Anticipation Securities (LEAPS®) that expire in December, 2000. LXI is based on the discount rate of the most recently auctioned 13-week U.S. Treasury Bill. LXV is based on the yield-to-maturity of the most recently auctioned 5-year Treasury note. LXN is based on the yield-to-maturity of the most recently auctioned 10-year Treasury note. LBN is based on the yield-to-maturity of the most recently auctioned 30-year Treasury bond.

Calculation of Underlying Level: Ten times the annualized discount rate of the most recently auctioned 13-week T-bill for LXI. For LXV, LXN, LBN – ten times the yield-to-maturity of the most recently auctioned 5-year T-note, 10-year T-note and 30-year T-bond, respectively.

Intra-day Information Source: Bridge/Telerate Systems Inc. calculates the underlying level continually throughout the trading day and disseminates the price at frequent intervals over the OPRA system.

Unit of Trade: One contract equals the multiplier ($100) times the underlying level.

Premium Quotations: Stated in points and fractions. One point equals $100, minimum tick for series trading below 3 is 1/16 ($6.25), and for all other series, 1/8 ($12.50).

Strike Price Intervals: 2-1/2 point intervals (each interval represents 25 basis points) to bracket the current level of the composite. Strike prices represent the underlying interest rates.

Exercise Style: European.

Expiration Months: LXB, LXV, LXN and LBN LEAPS® expire in December 2000.

Expiration Dates: The Saturday immediately following the third Friday of the expiration month.

Position Limits: For the purposes of calculating these limits, LXI is aggregated with IRX. The current limit is 5,000 contracts on either side of the market. The position limit for LXV, LXN, and LBN is aggregated with FVX, TNX and TYX respectively. The current limit is 25,000 contracts.

Minimum Customer Margin for Uncovered Writers: The dollar amount of the premium plus 10% of the underlying value minus the amount by which the option is out-of-the-money (if any).

Trading Hours: 7:20 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. (Central Time).

Exercise Settlement: The exercise-settlement values of interest rate options are as follows – SSX for LXI, FVS for LXV, TNS for LXN, and TYS for LBN. The exercise-settlement values are based on the “spot yield” on the last trading day as reported by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Exercise Settlement Time: Exercise notices tendered will result in delivery of cash on the next business day.

Trading System: Designated Primary Market Maker.
